Golden Gate Park is San Francisco's greatest attraction, and in time will attain National notoriety. The annual report of the Commissioners for 1879-80 show that the receipts during the year were $60,621 02; expenditures, $53,163 39; balance, $7,517 63; deposited by David Bask to the credit of the Park Commissioners, $13,389. Number of visitors during the year, 983,164—an increase of 279,909 over the previous year. There were 40,285 visits made during the year to the park by carriages, 43,650 by double buggies, 161,323 by single buggies, and 36,484 by equestrians. The greatest number of visitors in any month was in May, 125,110, and the lowest in December, 54,916. The number of accidents to vehicles was 11 and to individuals 5. There were 26 arrests made—17 for fast driving 2 for discharging firearms and 7 for other offenses.

We are not disposed to bandy words with our evening cotem, as to the whys and wherefores of the dismissal of the Kirkland libel suit. But we insist that whatever settlement was made there was a mutual understanding, for we know the plaintiff too well to believe that he would have consented to dismiss the suit, had not some sort of a retraction been offered, and we guess if the truth was known, that the Gazette item concerning the suit was submitted to him before it ever appeared in print. But our cotem is assured that the JOURNAL is not displeased because of the amicable settlement of the trouble.

Professor Spencer F. Baird, of the Smithsonian institution in Washington, has labored there for thirty years. His chief work has been in regard to fish and birds. He is fifty-seven years old. He employs two or three stenographers for his correspondence. On his journeys he walks and refuses the aid of a horse. He is a large, heavy man. He never goes to a theatre or concert, or even a lecture, because he wishes to retire early. His leisure time is spent in reading story papers.

The problem of the future is the disposure of the Congressional library. It is estimated that in fifty years a building will be required, to hold the books, as large as the Capitol itself, and plans are being drawn already for such a building, which, for architectural reasons, must be erected so far from the present site as to be at an inconvenient distance.

The Secretary of the Treasury has placed the quarterly dividends of interest at the disposal of the Superintendent of the Tenth Census. It will show where the indebtedness of the country is owing, how much to each State and Territory, how much to each city containing more than 20,000 inhabitants, and how much to foreign countries.

Senator Conkling is preparing to enter upon the political canvass and remain in it until its close. He thinks the Democrats of New York will be united. On the contrary, the Chicago Times is of the opinion that the Tammanyites will not unite with the regular Democracy, as the latter are inclined to snub them.

At the meeting of the Board of Directors of the California State Agricultural Society on Monday President Larnie stated that Governor Stanford would entertain President Hayes and his party during the Fair week at his residence in Sacramento.

Tammany and anti-Tammany will not fuse, which insures the electoral vote of New York for Garfield. With the great Empire State for Garfield the problem of naming the next President is not difficult to solve.

SECRETARY EVARTS AS THE MODERN DEMOSTHENES.

Unpalatable Facts—Why the United States are not richer and stronger—Congressional Blundering—Trade Trifled with to Please Pettifogging Politicians.

[Wash. cor. Herald.]

Calling at the State Department your correspondent had the privilege of a conversation with Mr. Evarts, prior to his departure for his home in Vermont, where he will remain about ten days. The Secretary's views on our diplomatic and commercial relations as now given cannot fail to be of interest to the country, and his quiet arraignment of Congress for retarding the development of our commerce, after all its bluster and noise over petty political squabbles, may induce investigation and a correction of the blunder to some extent in the near future.

"I am indebted to the Herald," said the Secretary, "for the excellent notice which it gave of my letter transmitting the annual report upon the commercial relations of the United States for the year 1879. It is astonishing that men in public life do not give more thought to a subject of such immense importance to the people of the whole country. Certainly there is nothing the administration has more earnestly desired to improve than our commercial relations with all parts of the world. Our raw materials are in demand everywhere, and our manufactures are gradually taking hold and supplying the markets of the advanced enlightened nations. I suppose the lack of attention complained of may be properly attributed to the lack of willingness on the part of Congressmen to investigate the subject of increasing our foreign commerce. It would require actual labor and might not yield votes or party support in the day of political aspirations. That is the reason we are not richer to-day and stronger than we might be if an effort had been made to increase our commercial relations throughout the world. In the speech which I made in May, 1877, before the Chamber of commerce of New York, just after we came into power, I endeavored to show that what the United States needed most was not free trade nor discussions on a tariff for revenue only, but what we demanded was full trade, the development of the entire industries and resources of the country and honest, fair dealing with all peoples. But what encouragement has the administration met with in attempting to open new markets for our home products? I can truthfully say, none whatever. On the contrary, the very auxiliaries which other nations have found useful in keeping up their foreign trade are bootied at by those who know the least about such matters. That is always the way; bluster and noise are believed by some to be a cheap substitute for courage and self-possession."

OUR DIPLOMATIC SERVICE.

"The very book I just alluded to, 'The Commercial Relations of the United States,' the first edition of which is already exhausted, though only issued two days ago, is actually a gratuitous contribution by the State Department to the business interests of the country. A casual examination of it will convince anybody that the accumulation of the statistics necessary to perfect such a report has required much clerical labor and volumes of correspondence. All this has been done in addition to the regular duties of the department, merely because there was no other way of bringing it out. There are prescribed duties for the Secretary of State, and he, like other men in public life, need not do more than is expected from him; yet the debate in Congress would lead one to suppose that the State Department alone could carry on our entire diplomatic and consular business, and so dispense with the costly ministers and army of consuls. For instance, it has been claimed by the opponents of the administration that the facilities of communication by cable have made the appointment of foreign ministers unnecessary. This is only limitedly true, because if the legations were abolished the duties would have to be performed by the Department of State, and the amount expended on ministers would be largely required to pay the increased force of the department. Yet no one ever heard of an increased appropriation being proposed to enable the department to fulfill the Congressional idea of modern diplomacy. There was a time when the means of communication were not so rapid as now, when a minister going to a distant country was compelled to take explicit instructions as far as they could be given and then exercise his judgment when it was necessary to act immediately. So when a factor went abroad for a merchant, and was instructed to do certain things, and by reason of the distance could not communicate with the house he represented, he was obliged to use his own discretion in making purchases."

WHAT THE COUNTRY SHOULD DESIRE

"Now all this is changed, and what I complain of is that with the increased facilities for trade and speedy communication there is not a corresponding effort on our part to leave dead issues and avail ourselves of the magnificence of our inheritance by sustaining the imperial position which the United States is entitled to hold among the great Powers of the earth. What do the masses of the people care about the squabble of politicians over troops at the polls and other abstract points of a partisan nature—a people whose net earnings from foreign trade alone is running into the hundreds of millions? A dyspeptic might very properly consider whether it would be to his advantage to eat an ear of corn; but a man with good digestion and hearty appetite never hesitates to eat freely of wholesome food of all kinds. This discussion in Congress as to whether we have a liver or whether the pancreatic ducts of the nation are in a healthy state is unworthy of our dignity, and enough to vex those who are in position to know that all the nations of the earth are ready to take off their hats to us if our own conduct only invited it. Why, Spain would go round the world rather than intentionally offend us. You have seen the last cartoon in Puck, I suppose. It is amusing, but it is not pends upon the justice of its satirical illustrations. That is what has made Puck and Vanity Fair the power they are among the people. But nobody presumes to say that an affront can be put upon the greatest nation on the earth and not be resented at the right time and in the sternest manner. There is not an intelligent citizen of the country that believes to the contrary. A strong nation with nearly fifty millions of inhabitants that has become the granary of the world and figuratively occupies the position that Egypt did when the children of Jacob obtained their supplies of corn there—I say such a nation will not lose its temper when it ought to keep it, and yet I have no doubt there are people who would for their own selfish purposes willingly provoke trouble if only to injure our increasing prosperity. The attitude of our government on the subject, now being considered in the usual way, shall not be misunderstood.

NATIONAL PROSPERITY BEFORE INDIVIDUAL SUCCESS.

"We have made known that American vessels on the high seas, not bound for a port of Cuba cannot be detained without the fullest reparation being made for the offence. Such procedures are contrary to the very policy which the administration is trying to develop, and we intend so far as it lies in our power to put an end to them. To our physical prowess we also propose to add what is always the equal of the sinews of war, stable prosperity and abundance of wealth. Now what I was about to say is this: What is there in the platform of either party that is equal to the demand of the country at the present time? Look for a moment at the Pacific coast. What are we doing to build up our commerce in that direction? We have an Atlantic seaboard dotted with ports of entry, but what have we on the Western coast? It is our territory, grand in its stretch between the boundaries of two friendly countries. What is there, I say, in the political agitation of the day that equals the magnitude of a policy which the statistics of our commercial relations for the last year would naturally suggest to any man who prefers the prosperity of the country to the temporary success of a few individuals? If our members of Congress would inform themselves of our trade and commercial possibilities with foreign countries and disseminate that sort of information among their constituents to stimulate them to develop our inexhaustible resources, instead of the hue and cry periodically raised about the threatened subversion of our constitution and liberties, which are safe enough in the hands of the people, the prosperity and happiness of our whole country would be greatly increased. We need to-day our own telegraphic communication with all the commercial ports of South America and adjacent islands, as well as with Japan and China, and when we cease disputing about imaginary wrongs and fanciful issues we may hope to attain the position God made us to hold. If I were an aspirant for office I would rather be defeated on a platform that proposed the enlargement of our industries and the increase of our wealth than success upon any other.

GREAT REPUBLICAN OVERSIGHT.

"If the supporters of the Republican platform to-day had given the administration their hearty support three years ago it would not be a question of doubt to-day as to which party will succeed in the coming election. The whole country would have rallied to the standard which they proclaimed industry and prosperity to all sections of the land. And just now it is amazing how many monarchs and kings are encouraging the cry of a free trade policy for the United States. The Democratic party is stronger in Europe than in the United States if the advocates of free trade are to be counted in the ranks of that party. Yes, we are wisely admonished, they say, to open our ports in time that they may deluge our markets with cheaper productions. It will not be done. The world is better to-day because of our protective tariff. Not in the interest of any class, but of all the people of the nation. Lacking many things we might now possess had we been worldly wise, the next best thing the people can do is to elect Garfield and Arthur and enter upon that great and glorious era of prosperity which Mr. Tilden is said to have predicted would begin with the inauguration of the next President of these United States, and toward which victory I will in due time contribute the aid of my voice."

It is reported at Tucson that Colonel Reyes has been whipped out of Mexico by the Federal troops, and that the revolt in Sonora is at an end. Reyes is said to have lost eighteen men in an affair at Tubertama a few days ago. He was subsequently attacked at Altar and routed. Reyes and his followers crossed into Arizona, and were overhauled at Alamos Flat, where he lost for men. The survivors fled and took refuge at Wilbur's Ranch, and were protected against the Mexican troops by the employees. Meanwhile Sheriff Elliot, with thirty citizens from Arivacca, proceeded to Wilbur's Ranch and took the men, eleven in number, prisoners. Reyes, with five men, made his way towards Tucson. The United States Marshal will take them all in custody. Reyes should be made an example of.

The session of the Cabinet meeting yesterday lasted about half an hour. No question of public interest was considered. The President will not issue his Chinese proclamation until the pending investigation with regard to Chinese discrimination against United States vessels is concluded and shows conclusively that no discriminating tonnage in import duties are levied upon United States vessels by the Chinese government. The President informed the Cabinet that he would leave Washington on Thursday to visit the Pacific

Springer's Estimate of Garfield.

For the benefit of those of our readers who have not seen the speech made by Mr. Springer at Sullivan, Ind., we produce a portion of it below, as reported by both Democratic and Republican papers. He said: "My friends, the Republican party has nominated for its candidate for President James A. Garfield, of Ohio—[derisive laughter]—a man who has long been in public service, long been the leader of his party, and who stands to-day the mightiest warrior of them all, the greatest Republican member of the Lower House of Congress, [Sensation.] I know James A. Garfield by being with him in the Lower House of Congress for years, and I know there is no Republican in that party abler than he. I see the newspapers are making charges against his character, but, my friends, I cannot say that they are in any wise true. I have not read the reply to these charges by the Republican press, if they are true, I do not know it, and you, my friends, know as much about them as I do. I must say to you, my friends, that I had hoped that the good old Democratic party would select a civilian for its standard-bearer in this campaign, as I think it would have been more preferable to us, certainly more preferable to me, than to have a man who is solely a military man. The President of the United States should be a man who knows all about the affairs who knows the regulations of the various departments; the management of the Judiciary, Legislative, and Executive Departments; the Department of State, which deals with foreign countries; the Treasury Department, with the millions of treasure with civil service, and with the great and rapid growing commerce of our land, thereby bringing the greatest happiness to our people. I therefore thought the best interests of our people demanded a man experienced in civil affairs, and when our Convention at Cincinnati nominated a purely military man, I must confess to you, my friend I thought it would have been better if I had nominated a man with some civil experience. But, as none of the great civilians of our party was selected, we looked around for an available man and found him in the person of Gen. Hancock, who, I know, if elected will take his seat. [Applause.] It does not matter particularly which party succeeds in having control of the Government, because I believe that if either of the candidates are elected we will have a good Government, peace, plenty, and prosperity. I don't care so much for party as I do to have a good man and I think either of the nominees would give us good Administration."

Democratic Predictions.

They predicted that secession would be peaceable.

They predicted that the States would not respond to President Lincoln's call for militia.

They predicted that the militia would refuse to cross the Potomac and invade Virginia.

They predicted that money could not be raised to sustain the army. And the people filled the treasury.

They predicted that the people would not take the greenback.

They predicted that the greenback dollar would be as valueless as rags.

They predicted that grass would grow in the streets of New York.

They predicted that England and France would form an alliance with the South to secure cotton.

They predicted that a "poverty-stricken people in the North would compel the Government to terminate the war."

They predicted that Grant could never capture Richmond.

They predicted that the war for the Union would be a failure.

They predicted that the Confederates would never be overthrown.

They predicted that the people would never ratify the amendments to the Constitution.

They predicted that the freed negroes would become a race of paupers.

They predicted that the people would never permit black men at the ballot-box.

They predicted that the war would terminate in a vast standing army and a military dictator.

They predicted that the child was unborn who would live to see gold or silver restored to the currency of the country.

They predicted that the interest on the vast public debt could never be paid.

They predicted that specie payments would not be resumed on the first of January, 1879.

They predicted that the resumption of specie payments would bring universal disaster and ruin upon the business and industries of the country.

Besides those already mentioned, President Hayes will be accompanied on his trip to California by Secretary Ramsey, editor Howells, of the Atlantic Monthly, Gen. McCook, Mrs. Herron of Cincinnati, and Mrs. Mitchell, of Columbus, Ohio. In his speech on the Pacific Coast, the President will dwell largely with the subject of the great increase that has been made in the past twelve years in the production of gold and silver in this country. Tables showing the increase have been prepared for him at the Treasury Department. These tables are as yet secret, but it is known that they show that the increase in the production of the precious metals has been much greater during the past fiscal year than the last or any preceding.

At the Track.

Besides the horses already at the track, in training for the State Fair races, applications are being daily made to Secretary Flanagan for stalls, from parties abroad, and the indication warrants the assertion the racing will be exceptionally good this year. The track is in good order and is being worked every day, so that it will be very fast. Of the horses at the track now, Jack Nichols has Woodburn, a 2-year-old colt, and a fine black mare. Matt Canavan has Maggie C., Democrat and a 2-year old colt. Smith Hill has Fred. E. Downer has Brushy John and McClellan. John Wilson has Blackbird. Frank Perkins has Thunderer. M. C. Lake has Cousin Vic. Matt Rapp has Quincy Chief. Turney has several good ones. Ballot Box, Jr. is also there.

K. of P.

Our local Knights will be interested in knowing that St. Louis is in holiday attire in honor of the Knights of Pythias. The Supreme Lodge of the World had a fine reception at the hands of the State Lodge, and attracted much attention. In Missouri there has been a gain during the year of 659 members. The finances are in good shape, and the year has been the most prosperous in the history of the Order. There has been a general increase in membership through six States show a decrease, including Nevada. The aggregate gain is 5,642 during the year. The amount paid for relief in two years is $47,800; receipts for two years, $41,265; balance in the treasury, $12,357; number of members, 84,715.

Nevada's Midshipman.

The examination for admission to the Annapolis Naval School was completed Tuesday. The Carson Tribune says: Lee Gaston, a resident of Gold Hill, aged 17 years, passed the best examination, and although he is physically defective Congressman Daggett will give him the option of accepting the appointment for him with the probability of her son being rejected at Annapolis on account of physical defects, in which case she will have to pay his expenses back. In case Gaston does not accept the appointment, John McDonald, also of Gold Hill, who received the next highest average, will be appointed. He is a large, healthy looking boy of the same age as Gaston, and will pass any physical examination the Annapolis M. D.'s subject him too.

J. C. Hagerman will address the Hancock and English Club, of Gold Hill, this evening, at Miners' Union Hall. Other able speakers will be in attendance.

"Buckskin Bob," so-called, was arrested yesterday on a charge of petit larceny. He will be heard to-day by Judge Young.

As Others See Us.

"W" writes the Truckee Republican, as follows:
Ed. REPUBLICAN: On last Saturday I took a little run over to the Sage Brush State as far as the town of Reno. I found it a very attractive little place indeed. There is an air of thrift and permanence about it that is quite refreshing. The whole place has the appearance of a town where the people expect to stay. There are a large number of neat, substantial residences in the town, surrounded by lawns, flower gardens, shrubbery and trees which give them an inviting and homelike appearance. Some very important improvements have been made, among the most prominent being the fine new public school house, which is just approaching completion. It is a large, commodious, two story brick building, situated on one of the finest lots in the town. It is an ornament to the place and the people of Reno may well feel proud of it. It will be ready for occupation next week. Among other attractions to the place are the Court House, Seminary and Convention.

Business at the place just now is rather dull, which appears to be an almost universal complaint. The recent bank failure has a very depressing effect on business generally. It is rumored that an attempt will shortly be made to effect a settlement of the affairs of the institution. The feeling against some of the bank officials is very bitter in some quarters. The survey of the new railroad is now progressing very favorably. Business men generally feel that better times are in store for the place and that it will soon recover from its present depression. Active preparations are being made for the Seventh Annual State Fair of Nevada to commence September 27th. It is proposed to have the display exceed anything heretofore attempted in the way of an exhibition. The political pot is beginning to simmer and will soon be boiling hot. For a pleasant trip I know of no better place to visit than Reno.

A Large Wood Contract.

The Carson Times of Tuesday evening says: "The Sierra Nevada Wood, Lumber and Flaming Company has closed a contract with Major M. C. Gardner, of this city, by the terms of which he agrees to cut, haul and deliver at the foot of the company's incline, on the northern shores of Lake Tahoe, near Marlette's mill, 40,000 cords of merchantable wood, four feet in length, for $2 40 per cord, or $96,000 for the lot. Simpson & Smith put in a bid at $2 50, and Charles, Galchist $2 68 per cord. This is perhaps the lowest rate for which wood was ever contracted to be cut and delivered in this section of country. Major Gardner will have to exercise all his ingenuity and employ Chinese labor, as well as unskilled workmen in flume building, to make any profit at the very low rate he is to be paid."

Ended.

The Hunter-Kinkadee embezzlement case was concluded at 9:30 o'clock last evening, and Justice Young will render his decision this morning at 10 o'clock. The evidence was closed at noon yesterday, and the afternoon and evening was occupied by the Attorneys in arguing the case.

Bishop Whitaker's School.

The Advent term of Bishop Whitaker's School for Girls, at this place, begins to-day, and the girls from Virginia, Dayton and Carson, came down on the lightning train last night, in charge of Mrs. Whitaker.

E. Watmore announces himself a candidate for Justice of the Peace of Reno Township, subject to the decision of the Republican Convention. "Watty" says he only wants to be tried and proved, and if he does not give satisfaction he will not charge a cent.

The Count and Countess Telfener.

passed through Reno last night on their way to San Francisco. Count Telfener, is a brother-in-law of John W. Mackay, and the richest man in the Italian Kingdom. There will be a meeting of the State Fair Trustees at 2 P. M. to-day. Horsemen who can suggest good changes in the speed programme are requested to be present. Belcher levies an assessment of 75 cents. Sierra Nevada has been assessed $2 per share. An assessment of 50 cents has been levied on Alta. There was a surprise party last night at the Coats House, gotten up by the young friends of the daughter, of the host of that establishment. Hon. W. E. F. Deal and Hon. C. C. Stevenson came down on the lightning last evening. Mr. E. Calkin, the well known insurance agent of Virginia, is in town. The stock market is not quite so active, and prices are lower. The C. P. pay car is expected along this way in a day or two. Items are very scarce around the court-house. The public school will reopen Monday week. Senator Sharon will be in Virginia next week. The Seminary reopens to-day for the advent term.

NEWS OF THE MORNING.

Cablegrams announce the complete success of the financial part of the Canada Pacific railway scheme in London. General Sherman says that the letters he wrote to Hancock in 1876, and to which Hancock replied at length, are to be published in the new biography of the General, in connection with the letter already printed. Captain Stone, manager of Maud S, has received a cable dispatch from Vanderbilt, her owner, instructing him not to start the mare again this season, he being fully satisfied with her achievements and requesting that the mare be retained for his own personal use. Dr. Buchanan, dean of the "quack factory" of Philadelphia, who disappeared a week ago and was said to have committed suicide, has been found at Windsor, Ontario, hiding under the name of Fairchild. He fled from home because he had been indicted. Quite a number of Democrats in Carson openly express their intention to vote for Daggett for Congressman. Congressman Daggett will make Carson his headquarters during the campaign. Have you registered yet? "We cannot consent to allow any form of servile labor to be introduced among us under the guise of immigration."—Gen. Garfield. Great clearance sale to commence on Monday, Aug. 16, 1880, for 30 days only, in order to make room for my new Fall and Winter goods; in which my prices have been reduced to such low figures as never known before in this State. REPUBLICAN PLATFORM.

THE FOLLOWING IS THE PLATFORM of the National Republican Party adopted by the Chicago Convention:

Republican rule has restored upon a solid basis payment in full of the public debt, and given us a currency absolutely good and legal, and equal in every part of our extended country. It has lifted the credit of the nation from the point where six per cent. bonds sold at 90, to that where four per cent. bonds are eagerly sought at a premium.

First—We affirm that the work of the last twenty-one years has been such as to commend itself to the favor of the nation, and that the fruits of the steady victories which we have achieved through immense difficulties should be preserved. That the peace regained should be cherished. That the disordered Union, now happily restored, should be perpetuated, and that the liberties secured to this generation should be transmitted undiminished to future generations.

Second—The Constitution of the United States is the supreme law, and not a mere contract. Out of the confederated States it made a sovereign nation. Some powers are denied to the nation, while others are retained by the States, but the boundary between the powers delegated and those reserved is to be determined by National and not by State tribunals.

Third—The work of popular education is one left to the care of the several States, but it is the duty of the National Government to aid that work to the extent of its constitutional ability. The intelligence of the nation is but the aggregate of the intelligence in the several States, and the destiny of the nation must be guided, not by the genius of any one State, but by the average genius of all.

Fourth—The Constitution wisely forbids Congress to make any law respecting an establishment of religion, but it is the duty of the National Government to protect the rights of religious freedom, and to prevent the influence of sectarianism, while each State is expected to its particular dominion. We therefore recommend that the Constitution be so amended as to lay some prohibitions upon the legislature of each State, and to forbid the appropriation of public funds to the support of sectarian schools.

Fifth—We reaffirm the belief avowed in 1876, that the duties levied for the purpose of revenue should so discriminate as to favor American labor. No tariff greater than that which will protect our industries from foreign competition. That slavery having perished in the States, its twin barbarity, polygamy, must die in the Territories. That everywhere the protection accorded to a citizen of American birth must be secured to citizens by American adoption. That it is the duty of Congress to develop and improve our watercourses and harbors, and we insist that further subsidies to private persons or corporations must cease. That the obligations to the nation who have preserved its integrity in the day of battle, are undiminished by the lapse of fifteen years since their final victory. Their perpetual honor is and shall forever be the grateful privilege and the sacred duty of the American people.

Sixth—Since the authority to regulate immigration and intercourse between the United States and foreign nations rests with the Congress of the United States and its treaty-making powers, that the Republican party, regarding the power to restrict the immigration of the people to restrict and limit that immigration by the enactment of such just, humane and reasonable provisions as will produce that result.

Seventh—That the purity and patriotism which characterized the earlier career of Rutherford B. Hayes in peace and war, and which guided the thought of his later years, have continued to inspire him in his career as Chief Executive, and that history will accord to his administration the honors which are due to an efficient, just and courageous fulfillment of the public business, and will honor him as one of the great statesmen of our country.

Eighth—We charge upon the Democratic party the sublime sacrifice of patriotism and justice to the selfish and unstable lust for office and patronage, that to obtain possession of the National and State governments, and the control of place and position, they have obstructed all the efforts of the Republican party to secure the reform of our government, have devised fraudulent certificates and returns; have labored to secure lawfully elected members of Congress, to secure at all hazards the vote of the majority of the States in the House of Representatives; have obstructed the efforts of the Republican party to secure the reform of our government, have devised fraudulent certificates and returns; have labored to secure lawfully elected members of Congress, to secure at all hazards the vote of the majority of the States in the House of Representatives; have obstructed the efforts of the Republican party to secure the reform of our government, have devised fraudulent certificates and returns;
